ATTACHMENT TO FCC FORM 602

TAC License Corp. ("TAC License") is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Teligent Acquisition Corp. ("TAC"), which was incorporated in Delaware on August 20, 2001 in order to acquire the assets of Teligent, Inc. used in its U.S. facilities-based telecommunications business. TAC License was formed to become the operating subsidiary of TAC, and will, among other things, hold and operate the FCC wireless licenses currently held by existing Teligent, Inc. subsidiaries upon closing of the transaction following receipt of necessary regulatory approvals of the asset transfer, approval of the Bankruptcy Court overseeing the Teligent, Inc., bankruptcy proceedings, and the completion of financing by TAC.¹

It is not currently anticipated that any single person or entity will hold a 10% or greater direct ownership interest in TAC, and thereby a 10% or greater indirect ownership interest in TAC License, as of the closing date of the transaction. Should any investor acquire an ownership interest in TAC such that it will hold a 10% or greater indirect interest in TAC License at closing, Applicant will promptly update this FCC Form 602 to advise the Commission of such interest(s). In no event, however, is it anticipated that the potential variations in ownership that could occur during the financing process would result in a single entity or individual assuming effective indirect control of TAC License.
